

RYDER PARTNERSHIP

Accident Investigation Training Courses

This course concentrates on providing delegates with the skills and knowledge required for undertaking accident investigations in the workplace and preparing and completing investigation reports and forms.

Aims of the course

The course will give delegates the ability to investigate accidents, to gather evidence, interview witnesses and present their findings.

Objectives

- To understand the need for undertaking accident investigations
- To be able to conduct effective interviews
- To prepare an accident investigation report
- To identify accident causation factors
- To understand accident types and costs.

The structure of the course

- Accident definitions
- Types and costs of accidents
- Accident causation
- Interview techniques
- Collecting evidence
- Finding the root cause of accidents
- The investigation form (preparing an investigation report)
- Practical exercise
- Feedback

For more information contact

Ryder Partnership
P.O. Box 224
Oakengates
Telford
Shropshire
TF2 2WG

Tel: 01952 290871

E mail. ryderp@tiscali.co.uk

Number of Delegates

This course is suitable for up to a maximum of 12 delegates.

Who should attend

Those persons who have the responsibility for undertaking accident investigations, line managers, team leaders, safety personnel.

Certification

Delegates must complete the practical investigation exercise in order to receive the accident investigators certificate.

Course Duration Either half day or one day duration.